

THE UNIVERSITY OF BERGEN

The University Library

Contract for making doctoral thesis available in Bergen Open Research Archive (BORA)

This is an agreement between The University of Bergen Library and PATRICIA BERNÚDEZ

This contract allows the University Library, on behalf of the University in Bergen, the right to deposit the author's PhD thesis (see the title below) in BORA. The author keeps the copyright.

Title: INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY APPROPRIATION: ECUADOR

The work will be openly accessible on the Internet as long as the University maintains an Institutional Repository. The author retains the right to withdraw the publication from BORA.

Articles in the thesis will only be made available if the copyright holder gives their permission. The University Library takes the responsibility for clearing copyright for the articles. The author is responsible for acquiring permission from co-authors and for clearing copyright for other material in the thesis (illustrations, graphs, pictures etc.).

☐ Cross out to give permission to make available preprint articles that are not accepted for publication in BORA. Some publishers do not allow self-archiving of preprint articles.

The work can be used, that is referred to, linked to, quoted from, printed and downloaded within the framework of the Act no. 2 of 12 May 1961 relating to copyright in literary, scientific and artistic works (åndsverkloven) with changes. (<http://www.lovdato.no/all/nl-19610512-002.html> in Norwegian) The University of Bergen does not have the right to use the work commercially.
